Online workshop: An introduction to Data Visualisation

Thursday 25th and Friday 26th November 2021

12.00 – 13.30 both days

Discover the language of data visualisation in this interactive, online workshop with data designer Valentina D'Efilippo

This event will take place through Zoom.

Data is more than numbers — it is information found all around us, in where we go, what we consume, touch, watch or hear. In fact, data can also be found looking inside your wardrobe. Yes, that's right. Inspired by 'Bags: Inside Out', this ice-breaker workshop will demonstrate how to transform raw numbers into compelling visual outcomes. No experience or special software is required to take part.
