Introduction

Exploring the fascinating and complex history of France's most iconic queen, this course will offer a tantalizing insight into Marie Antoinette's life at the French court, her role as monarch and mother, and her patronage of the arts. At the forefront of the latest fashions, Marie Antoinette employed the most sought-after architects, artists and designers who created for her magnificent interiors and enchanting gardens. The course will offer an immersive examination of her apartments at the Palaces of Versailles and Fontainebleau as well as the Petit Trianon, discuss their stylistic features and how they were luxuriously furnished with the precious products of the French royal manufactures. The course will also provide an intimate account of the Queen's daily life and interrogate how her public and private roles were articulated and performed via portraiture, most notably through her patronage of Elisabeth Louise Vigée Le Brun. The course will conclude with a consideration of the myth and legacy of Marie Antoinette: reviled and condemned to death during the French Revolution, Marie Antoinette inspired a cult-like fascination in the nineteenth-century, with figures like the Goncourt Brothers or Empress Eugenie devotedly collecting her former belongings.
